DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgement

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the Amendments to the Specification, and to the Drawings, filed 04 March 2004, as well as the Reply to the Office Action, also filed on 04 March 2004. The arguments made by the Applicants were persuasive to overcome the rejections of claims 2 – 26 made by the Examiner in the Office Action, but the Examiner has found grounds for objections to the Specification and several of the claims, as cited below. Claims 1 and 27 still stand rejected for the reasons given below.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the reference numbers used in the Abstract should be removed. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The disclosure is objected to because it contains an embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code (see for example, page 2). Applicant is required to delete the embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code. See MPEP § 608.01.

5. The title of the invention (System of Manufacturing Semiconductor Integrated Circuit) is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Objections

6. Claims 1 - 27 are objected to because of the following informalities: The claims are replete with grammatical and other errors. For example, in claim 1, line 5, delete "each of said centers", and insert --said designing center--; claim 1, line 6, delete "databases" and insert -- database--; claim 2, line 3, delete "costs", and insert --cost--; claim 2, line 19, delete "one of"; claim 3, line 11, delete "statuses", and insert --status-- (there are a number of other occurrences of that word that also require correction); claim 3, line 15, delete “designing”, and insert --design--; claim 3, line 16, delete “outputs”, and insert --output--; claim 13, line 6, delete “;”, and insert --;--; claim 14, on both lines 2 and 3, delete “mirrored line” and insert --mirrored server--. The Applicant is urged to check all claims carefully to ensure that proper idiomatic English is used. Appropriate correction is required.

Art Unit: 2825

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claims 1 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,634,008 to Dole.

9. Referring to claim 1, Dole discloses a methodology for designing and manufacturing a semiconductor integrated circuit comprising a data-managing center having a database as well as remote design centers (Figs. 2 – 5; column 1, line 66 to column 2, line 43); a manufacturing center (column 4, lines 29 – 39); and a Web

Art Unit: 2825

(Internet) connecting all these locations together as to provide a two-way communication. Dole thus cites all the elements of claim 1.

10. As per claim 27, see Fig. 12, which recites the use of Standard Cells. Standard Cells are exclusively used in ASIC device designs. Thus, Dole also teaches the limitations of claim 27.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. Claims 2 - 26 are objected to as recited above, but contain allowable subject matter.

13. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: See Acknowledgement above for reasons for allowing these claims.

Response to Arguments

14. Applicant's arguments filed 04 March 2004 pertaining to claims 1 and 27 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for the following reasons: Dole teaches a manufacturing center (column 4, lines 29 – 39); and a Web (Internet) connecting all these locations as to provide a two-way communication (via email, for example, which is a feature commonly used by Internet users). See column 6, lines 11 – 18, which state “Upon completion of the design of the integrated circuit or block, design details are provided by the web server to the factory for fabrication of the IC or to an IP bank to allow other designers use of the designed block. In addition, the web server is linked via the Internet to customers 2503 and 2505. The customers may therefore be at almost any geographic locations, allowing designers to be located at great distances”. Thus, Dole cites all the limitations claimed in claim 1. Claim 27 is dependent on claim 1, and is also rejected because the limitations claimed herein are also cited by Dole.

Conclusion

15. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
